Those techniques will be explored during this workshop.

Martha is an experienced artist and art teacher who taught art in public schools for 29 years. Since retirement from teaching art, she has had much more time to spend on her own creative endeavors.

Artists will need to bring their own supplies, but Martha will furnish each participant with enough cold wax to use that day. A supply list will be sent to people who sign up for this workshop.

To sign up for this workshop please see the attached Registration Form
